DIVIDEND, JAN'Y 1, 1868,
FORTY PER CENT. UPON ALL POLICIES THAT have been in force four years, and payable on the anniversaries of the renewals of said policies.

This Company in declaring its Dividends, do so upon THE PERCENTAGE SYSTEM, thus each Insurer, WHETHER HE IS A RICH MAN OR A POOR MAN, A PROMINENT CITIZEN OR AN HUMBLE CITIZEN, SHARES ALIKE.

PREMIUM SYSTEM.
CASH, WHEN REQUIRED. NOTES ARE, HOWEVER, TAKEN to accommodate the Insurer in paying his Premiums, thus showing the confidence of the Company in its ability to declare Dividends that will eventually CANCEL THE NOTES.

How different this is from a Cash Company who exact all Cash, under the plea that it is unsafe to grant this indulgence to a policy-holder, when he is unable to pay his renewal premium.

REMEMBER
That the "OLD MANHATTAN" never assumes or promises Extravagant Dividends to induce Insurers to come and insure with them. Their Dividends in the past have always been equal to all well-managed and first-class Companies, and they can offer the records of the past as an evidence of the future. It never vilifies the character of other Companies to accumulate business. THE MANHATTAN'S oldest insurers are its best advocates. The business of the Company is conducted with ECONOMY!

This is an evidence of careful management and a promise of Large Dividends in future.

From the following table, taken from the New York Insurance Reports of 1867, it will be seen that our percentage of expenses to receipts are very much less than any Company enumerated below:

Expenses on each $100 of Receipts:

| North America | 16 44 |
| Mutual Life | 17.09 |

LETTER FROM WASHINGTON CITY.

[FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 16, 1868.

Friday, the 13th of March, 1868, will long be regarded as a memorable day in American affairs,—the day when, for the first time in history, the chief executive of a great nation was arraigned before the highest tribunal in the world to answer for his crimes. The scenes were the most impressive ever witnessed in the United States Senate. The city was full of strangers. For days Senators had been besieged for tickets. And when the doors of the Senate wing were opened, at eleven o'clock, crowds of people, who had not been fortunate enough to secure tickets, were there, vainly trying to pass the outer doors. Seventy or eighty additional policemen were in and about the Senate wing, and additional doorkeepers were placed at the Senate doors and at the fourteen doors entering into the galleries. Two extra telegraph wires, making seven in all, stretched from the rear of the reporter's gallery, connecting with lines to all parts of the country. In the rear of the Senators' desks had been placed 150 chairs for members of Congress; and, in fact, two long tables—one on the right and the other on the left of the Vice President's desk—for the President's counsel and the managers of the House. The galleries were soon filled, two-thirds or three-fourths of the audience being ladies, but few gentlemen having been fortunate enough to secure tickets. The diplomatic gallery was occupied by foreign ministers, most of the European powers being represented. At 12 o'clock the Senate was called to order, and proceeded with legislative business till 1 o'clock, when Mr. Wade vacated the chair, and Chief Justice Chase entered the Senate chamber by a side door and took possession. After the Sergeant-at-Arms had made the usual proclamation, the Secretary read the journal of the previous meeting of the court. On motion of Mr. Howard, the Secretary was ordered to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate was ready to proceed in the trial of Andrew Johnson, and at ten minutes past 1 o'clock the Sergeant-at-Arms announced, "The managers of the impeachment on the part of the House of Representatives." The managers (except Messrs. Butler and Stevens, who came in later) then entered, and took seats at the table assigned them, on the left of the Chief Justice. Senators Patterson, of N. H., Edmunds and Vickers, were then sworn, having been absent when the court organized. The Sergeant-at-Arms then subscribed to the following oath, read by the Clerk:

> "The foregoing writ of summons, addressed to Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, and the foregoing precept addressed to me, were this day served upon the said Andrew Johnson, by delivering to and leaving with him copies of the same, at the Executive Mansion, the usual place of abode of the said Andrew Johnson, on Saturday, the 7th day of March instant at 7 o'clock.
>
> "GEORGE T. BROWN,
> "Sergeant-at-Arms, United States Senate."

The Chief Justice then ordered the Sergeant-at-Arms to call the accused. The Sergeant-at-Arms, in a loud voice:

> "Andrew Johnson, President of the United States; Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, appear and answer the articles of impeachment exhibited against you by the House of Representatives of the United States."

The Sergeant-at-Arms was next directed to inform the President's counsel, and Messrs. Stanbery, Curtis and Nelson were ushered in and took seats at the table on the right of the Chief Justice.

At twenty minutes past one the Sergeant-at-Arms announced "the members of the House of Representatives," and they entered and distributed themselves among the chairs and sofas not already occupied, but many were unable to get seats for some time.

Mr. Stanbery then rose and said:

> Mr. Chief Justice: My brothers, Messrs. Curtis and Nelson, and myself are here this morning as counsel for the President. I have his authority to enter his plea. By your leave, I will proceed to read.

He then read an affidavit, offered by the President, asking that he be allowed forty days to prepare his answer, and also a letter, signed by Messrs. Stanbery, Curtis, Black, Evarts and Nelson, counsel, stating that forty days would be necessary to prepare an answer.

Mr. Bingham, chairman of the Managers, in a few words of great beauty and force, listened to with breathless interest, objected to the motion of the counsel, and demanded that the trial proceed without delay, in accordance with the eighth rule adopted by the Senate to govern in cases of impeachment.

Mr. Curtis, counsel for the President, replied, and insisted on being allowed forty days to file an answer to the articles of impeachment.

Mr. Wilson followed, and insisted on behalf of the Managers and House of Representatives, that the trial should not be delayed, quoting from the eighth rule of the Senate, which provides that if he "shall appear and fail to file his answer to such articles of impeachment, the trial shall proceed, nevertheless, as upon a plea of not guilty."

Mr. Stanbery replied with a good deal of energy, pretending to be greatly "surprised," and almost indignant at the "singular" conduct of the Managers. He laid great stress on legal precedents and technicalities, citing the slow formalities and delays of ordinary courts, to justify delay in this case.

This brought Bingham to his feet again, and in a few brief sentences he cleared away all the legal cobwebs that the President's counsel had thrown over the case. He is more than a match for any of Johnson's attorneys, who have yet appeared; and, in clearness of perception, self-control, quick decision, force and perspicuity of language, he is the foremost man in Congress, or, at least, has no superior. After Mr. Bingham had closed his speech, Senator Edmunds submitted an order, giving the President till the 1st of April to file his answer.

Senator Morton moved that the Senate retire for consultation, which was carried, and at 2 o'clock, the Senate retired to what is, on ordinary occasions, used as the ladies' reception room, joining the Senate chamber. At a quarter past four o'clock, after a consultation of two hours and a quarter, the Senate returned, and, on taking the chair, the Chief Justice announced that the Senate had overruled the motion of counsel, and adopted an order requiring the President to appear and answer on Monday, the 23d instant. An order, submitted by Mr. Bingham, to allow the trial to proceed before filing replication by the Managers on the part of the House of Representatives, was voted down—25 yeas and 26 nays—Senator Wade not voting. Senators Corbett and William both voted in the affirmative. Senator Sherman then offered an order that the trial of the articles of impeachment shall proceed on the 6th of April. Senator Howard opposed it, and Senator Wilson moved to amend by making it the 1st instead of the 6th of April.

Gen. Butler then rose and made a forcible argument in favor of proceeding with the trial without unnecessary delay. He spoke at considerable length and direct to the point. He was followed by Mr. Nelson, of the President's counsel, who asked for more time.

Senator Conkling offered an order, as an amendment to Senator Sherman's, that the pending impeachment shall be proceeded with immediately after replication shall be filed. It was declared out of order, and Senator Wilson withdrew his amendment so that Senator Conkling's amendment to Sherman's might be in order. Mr. Bingham stated that this amendment would be satisfactory to the Managers on the part of the House, and proceeded to reply to the remarks of the President's counsel. In answer to a question of Senator Johnson, he stated that he could not say when replication would be made without consulting the House, but had no doubt but that it would be within one or two days after the President's answer is filed, (23d inst.) Senator Sherman's order, thus amended, then passed by a vote of 40 to 10—none but Democrats voting no. The Court of impeachment then adjourned, to meet again on the 23d inst., the day fixed for the President to file his answer to the articles of impeachment. The Senate, soon afterward, adjourned over till to-day. Thus ended another scene in the great drama.

One thousand tickets had been issued for the galleries, and the order of the Senate, not to allow any except those persons who had been provided with tickets inside the Senate wing, was rigidly enforced. Even men of high positions, who had been unable to get tickets, and who had come with Senators, hoping to be able to gain admission into the Senate wing, were turned back at the outside doors by the inexorable police that guarded every door. Each Senator was provided with four tickets, with which to supply his family, his friends and his constituents; members of Congress, four; Speaker of the House, four; the President, twenty; Chief Justice, four; among reporters and members of the press, sixty; among foreign Ministers, forty, etc. Imagine how far these tickets would go in supplying the constituents, or even the personal friends of Senators and Members from New York, Pennsylvania or Ohio, when the city was full of people, all eager and determined if possible, to witness the scenes in the Senate. It is said that more than a hundred applications was made for every ticket issued. People living in distant parts of the country telegraphed for tickets, and they came from every quarter solely to witness the trial. The struggle to get these tickets cannot be described. The ladies, who nearly monopolized the tickets, were mostly leaders of fashionable society, and they were arrayed in all the glory of the very latest fashions.

Mr. Stanton still maintains his position in the war office, in spite of the efforts of Johnson, and ad interim Thomas, to drive him out. He has remained in his office day and night, not even leaving it long enough to go to his meals, since the order for his removal was issued, on the 21st of last month. The President and his ad interim functionary, have resorted to every means which their ingenuity could devise to get possession of the War Department. They have demanded possession, over and over again; have threatened to resort to legal proceedings; to arrest him for disobedience of orders; and have even talked of using military force, which fortunately for the country, they were not able to control. The President's cautious appeal to General Emory, to disobey the law which requires all military orders to come through the General of the Army (Grant,) was made with a view of using the troops in Washington to take forcible possession of the War Department, and one of the impeachment articles is based on this. The President refuses to recognize Mr. Stanton as Secretary of War, and a few days ago returned a parcel of papers forwarded him from General Grant's headquarters through the War Department, with a request to have the papers sent to him direct from the General's headquarters, thus ignoring the regular channel of the War Department entirely. At a regular Cabinet meeting last Tuesday, at which all the members were present except Stanton, Lorenzo Thomas was invited to take a seat as Secretary of War ad interim, and he did so.

On Wednesday last Senator Corbett delivered a speech in the Senate on Senator Sherman's bill for funding the national debt. He opposed the payment of bonds in greenbacks—a Copperhead scheme of repudiation. As the bonds were taken, and are still held, to a large amount, by the middle classes, he showed that repudiation would fall heaviest upon the laboring men of the country, who invested their small means in government securities. Mr. Corbett contended that Congress intended to pay the principal of the debt in gold, and that it was so understood by all classes everywhere. And he argued that if there is to be repudiation it should be inaugurated by the Copperheads, and not by the party that fought through fire and blood to save the country, and to establish justice among men.

Governor Woods returned to Washington, last week, from New Hampshire, having canvassed nearly every part of the State for the Union ticket. The New England papers are filled with articles, complimenting him in the highest terms. Indeed, it would seem that he has created a perfect furor of enthusiasm among the Yankees, and established a fame for our State in the land of the Puritans. The local papers of New Hampshire devote whole columns to Oregon's Governor, and vie with each other in heralding his praises. The papers give him more praise than any of the many distinguished orators who canvassed the State, and individuals who arrived here since the election, declare that he created more enthusiasm among the people of New Hamshire than all the other speakers, among whom were ex-Vice President Hamlin and Gen. Frye of Maine; Senators Patterson and Cogin, and the Representatives, of New Hampshire; Gen. Sickles and Gen. Cochrane, of New York; Maynard and Stokes of Tennessee; Gen. Coburn and Gen. Washburn, of Indiana; Gen. Schenck of Ohio; Allison of Iowa, and a host of others. Gov. Woods expected to start home to-day, but the Connecticut Republicans are fairly besieging him to go up and canvass their State before leaving for Oregon. He will perhaps go up to the "Wooden Nutmeg State" to-day, spend about a week, then return to Washington and start for Oregon immediately.

The New Hampshire election, which took place last Tuesday, the 10th, has been looked forward to with great interest, and has created more talk and excitement among politicians of both parties lately, than impeachment. Last year Walter Harriman, the Republican candidate for Governor, received 35,809 votes, and John G. Sinclair, Democrat, 32,663—a Republican majority of 3,146 in a total vote of 68,505. This year the same candidates were nominated by the opposing parties. After the most exciting canvass ever made in that State, the Republicans have carried New Hampshire for Grant and Harriman, in favor of the Congressional policy of reconstruction, and in favor of the impeachment of Andrew Johnson. The Democrats made extraordinary efforts to carry the State. They naturalized and voted over two thousand foreigners, and resorted to every means in their power to win a victory. They were so confident of success that they had out a large flag suspended over Pennsylvania Avenue in front of their headquarters in this city, on Tuesday evening, with the words "Grand Democratic rally tonight." But when the news came flashing over the wires in the evening, the flag was hauled down and the "grand rally" never took place. New Hampshire is the first Republican gun in the great campaign of 1868, foreshadowing a score rich of victories as great as those of 1864. H.

Will they Vote for Smith?

Without doubt, J. S. Smith was nominated for Congress by the Democratic party in the hope that his relations to the Methodist Church would draw votes enough from that body to secure his election. Since his nomination, his party friends have constantly claimed that he will secure such support, and the question has often been put to us by men of all parties: "Will the Methodists vote for Smith?" We answer unhesitatingly, "No! they will not." There are three simple reasons why they will not.

First, It is well known to the Methodist Church that the record of J. S. Smith during all the war was one of opposition to the cause of the Union and of sympathy with that of the rebels. Every intelligent Methodist knows this is so. On more than one occasion Methodist [illegible] have publicly replied to his treasonable harangues. His denial now of his practice during the war will not only gain him no votes, but by it he will forfeit whatever good opinion the church has entertained of him.

The second reason is the company he keeps. To support Smith is to support the Democratic party; to support such men as Brown and Hayden, and Abbott, and Humason, and every other bitter enemy of the Methodist Church in G. [illegible] Did ever any of them say a kind word [illegible] for Methodism or Methodists in [illegible] Have they not, every one of them, traduced and villified the Methodist Church, denounced her ministers, and in every possible way sought to injure her? Is there a [illegible] because it is [illegible] Methodists know these men, and know that to vote for Smith is to vote for them.

The third reason is [illegible] the history of the Methodist Church during the war. More than one hundred thousand members of the Methodist Church fought for the Union. Methodists will [not] for twenty thousand members [illegible] party friends of J. S. Smith. With his sentiments, had he been brave [illegible] he too would have aided the actual crime. He did aid it to the extent of his ability and his valor. The church remembers her [illegible] and [illegible] it was that democracy that sacrificed these lives, made, and would, if he could, dishonor and despoil the grave of every Methodist patriot of the [illegible] laurels which a grateful country has [illegible] ever it. The Methodist Church [illegible] her sacrifice too great, but is ready if the [illegible] need should ever again arise, to repeat and largely augment it. The church delights to see her members in Congress, but she would blush to own that J. S. Smith belonged to the [illegible] with Harlan and Shellabarger, with Pile and Willey. Will Methodists vote for Joe Smith? NO!

Explaining the Platform.

As the "Democratic" platform begins with a commendation of the "time-honored principles," we have been trying ever since the Convention was held to get some of the oracles of the party to explain what those principles are. But they are all dumb. Not one explanatory word escapes them. They dare not attempt to expound the first resolution of their platform. The last clear and full exposition that we have had of the "time honored principles" from Democratic sources, was given during the rebellion. Buchanan, Jo. Lane, Pendleton, Whiteaker and others explained them fully some years ago, and no member of the party at this day dares to deny the correctness of their interpretation, or to denounce them for uttering the doctrines which they put forth at that time, and which we have lately taken the trouble to quote for their re-consideration. Thus, though no word can be extorted from the oracles of the party at this time in explanation of the "time-honored principles," the party has a record which is accessible to all, and which gives this explanation in the clearest and most unmistakable manner. Portions of this record we have reproduced during the last few days, and no "Democrat" in Oregon will have the temerity to deny that the numerous utterances which we have quoted from their party leaders, from their members of Congress and from the resolutions of their Conventions,—some of them avowing the right of secession, others in favor of recognizing the independence of the rebel Confederacy, and all of them denying the right of the Government to coerce a seceding State, are fully in accordance with "Democratic" principles. Nor can they claim that these are "dead issues." If the principles they avowed a few years ago be correct,—and they will not and dare not repudiate them,—any State or States may, now or hereafter, secede at pleasure, and the General Government will have no power to coerce them into submission. For the rights and powers of our Government have not been at all changed by the war. Hence if coercion was unconstitutional three years ago, it is unconstitutional still. Will the Democratic party renounce this doctrine? Does it renounce it? Rather does it not re-affirm it? By pledging anew its "unswerving fidelity to the time-honored principles," it has re-affirmed, as it intended to do, the doctrines uttered by Jo. Lane, by John Whiteaker, by James Buchanan, by Jerry Black, by Geo. H. Pendleton, and by the Conventions held by the party during the war in every State in the Union. In recent articles we have cited pretty copiously from the leading men and official declarations of the party on this subject, leaving no room for any misunderstanding as to what the "time honored principles" are. Lane says they mean secession and national disintegration; and Buchanan, Whiteaker, and the entire Democratic party chime in, with the doctrine of "no coercion." As the canvass proceeds we shall illustrate the "time honored principles" still further, [illegible] drawn from undoubted Democratic authorities. If they will not explain their principles, we shall see that the job is done for them.

[illegible] IN THE SCHOOLS.—The following dispatch [illegible] over the wires:

"Richmond, April 9th.—The Convention defeated a resolution prohibiting the Legislature from establishing separate schools for the two races, by a vote of 67 to 21.

The Herald, in publishing this, gives it a heading of [illegible], in these words: "The Reconstruction Policy that Mr. Logan endorses." Yes, sir; this is the policy which Mr. Logan endorses. If it is not agreeable for the two races to attend the schools together, Mr. Logan would have separate schools. Therefore when it is proposed to provide in a State Constitution that the Legislature [illegible] separate schools, Mr. Logan thinks it wise to vote the provision down, as the Virginia Convention has done. They are to have separate schools in Virginia, if they want [illegible]. But what is the position of the Herald? As it opposes the "reconstruction policy" which Mr. Logan endorses, the irresistible inference is that it wants the negroes and whites to attend the schools together. It is evident that the Herald has not brains enough to comprehend the meaning of the above dispatch, or it would not [illegible] into this predicament.

UMATILLA COUNTY.—Advices from Umatilla county state that affairs there look well for the Union party. The Democrats have made some very objectionable nominations, and the chances are that our friends will elect a portion of the Union ticket. In any event the Democratic majority of two years ago will be greatly reduced. The [illegible] Convention was held a few days ago, and the candidates who were sacrificed were very hostile. A resolution was introduced in the Convention to require each member to write his name on the back of his ballot, so that there should be no unfair play, which was objected to in all parts of the house with the declaration: "We [illegible] ballot!" The resolution was promptly withdrawn. Our correspondent who watched the proceedings says that the number of adjournments for whisky during the day was twelve. Another letter informs that the Logan is highly satisfactory to the Union men in Umatilla county.

Isn't it about time the Democracy were beginning to organize a branch of the rebel "Kuk-lux-Klan" in Oregon? Or couldn't they change the name of the "Jones Family" and have their Society in harmony with that of their rebel brethren, against whom Gen. Meade has been compelled to issue a proclamation in Georgia? We will republish the letter from Mosher to "Dear Mac" if it would be of any service in fixing up things.

Nothing could be more ludicrous than to witness the manner in which Smith stretches Democratic gum elastic to unite the antipodes of Pendleton's repudiation scheme and of paying the debt in accordance with good faith and sound policy. Applegate says Smith is traveling over the State with gold in one end of his saddle bags and greenbacks in the other, an illustration which describes his policy exactly.

It is conjectured from the hypocritical and unscrupulous course he is pursuing that Rev J. S. Smith has taken the advice and is acting on the precept of the celebrated character in the drama:

Get thee glass eyes,
And like a scurvy politician seem
To see the things thou dost not.

The Speakers at Salem.

A LIVELY DISCUSSION—LOGAN'S SPEECH ENTHUSIASTICALLY RECEIVED—SMITH REITERATES HIS BATCH OF FALSEHOODS

[From the Unionist, of Friday

The discussion between Messrs. Logan and Smith yesterday was attended by a large audience. The rain prevented the farmers from attending to their work at home, and many were enabled to attend who would otherwise have remained away. Mr. Logan opened the discussion in a speech of an hour and a half, in which he presented and discussed the issues now dividing the two parties, in a manner perfectly satisfactory to Union men, and which did not fail to make a favorable impression on many Democrats who heard him. His direct manner of presenting every proposition, and the fairness with which he met and demolished all the objections urged against the policy of Congress and the principles of the Union party, were very gratifying to his friends, and equally telling upon every rational Democrat. He stated fully and fairly the position assumed by the Union party, and called upon Mr. Smith to define his position and tell what he and his party proposed to do, provided they get the power.

We say no more than is known to be true by every man present, when we declare that Mr. Smith utterly failed to lay down or present any plan for the readjustment of our national difficulties which has not been repudiated by the people at every election since the secession of the Southern States. Mr. Smith, as usual, introduced his remarks by declaring his own honesty of purpose and desired to be "candid," and immediately started out in his usual string of mis-statements and sophisms. He denied that either he or his party ever sympathized with the cause of the rebels, he denied that the present Democratic party is composed principally of the Breckinridge party, he made the glaring assertion that not one tenth of the followers of Mr Douglas united with the Union party. Soon he became evidently confused and began defending the Democracy for advocating the right of secession, by charging that Greeley and other Republicans were also advocates of the same doctrine at some period of their lives. To prove his assertions the speaker read copious extracts from public and private documents, many of which had no relevance at all to the questions under discussion. With utter recklessness he asserted that the Republican party held that the States had no rights, but acknowledged with the same breath that he did not know what was the Republican doctrine in regard to the rights of the States. Four fifths of his audience at least agreed with him in his last proposition. In attempting to explain what the Chicago Convention meant by declaring the war for the Union a failure, he reaffirmed the sentiment, and declared that at that time the war was a failure—innocently asking how the members of the convention were to know that the rebels would be so soon compelled to lay down their arms? Mr. Smith undertook to show that the Republicans are inconsistent, because they once endorsed Andrew Johnson as a patriot, and now denounce him as a traitor, he admitted that he and his party favored giving seats in Congress to such members from the South as have been elected by the rebels. In reply to Mr. Logan's question as to what the Democracy proposed to do with the negro, he said they "just intended to do nothing with them," yet he said during his remarks that the negro question was one that should engage the attention of the wisest statesmen of the nation.

In conclusion, Mr. Smith appealed to his old friends—many of whom he declared had "known him from his boyhood"—to support him. He evidently meant to reach those with whom he is connected by church and social relations, but his appeal found no lodgment in the heart of any man who has not always been a sympathizer with the speaker and the "lost cause." His whole speech was a failure, and is acknowledged as such by his own party friends. While we have always regarded Mr. Smith's reputation as a speaker as bogus, and have been free to say so, yet we confess that we were disappointed when we heard him yesterday. He was puerile in the extreme. There are boys attending the Willamette University not eighteen years old who are better logicians, clearer thinkers and know more of the history of the country than Joseph S. Smith. We say this not for the purpose of disparaging the gentleman, but because it is true and will be acknowledged so by every man who heard him reply to his Union competitor.

Mr. Logan occupied a few minutes, according to agreement, at the close of Mr. Smith's remarks, in which he had recourse to his most forcible style of oratory. In these few minutes he completely demolished the whole fabric of Mr. Smith's argument, amid perfect thunders of applause from the audience, continuing frequently for near a minute in one spontaneous outburst of patriotic enthusiasm. The meeting closed with three cheers for Mr. Logan, in which almost the entire audience joined.

[From the Record.]

A very large audience, many ladies being present, was assembled to hear the debate at the Wigwam between the rival candidates for Congress. Mr. Logan opened with a speech an hour and a half long, which gave great satisfaction to a multitude of enthusiastic friends, and his friends seemed to comprise two-thirds of the audience. We shall take pleasure in reviewing Mr. Logan's speech at our leisure, and in conveying to the public his views on all the important issues, for they were plainly stated, and his points were forcibly made.

We must confess to having been very much disappointed with the speech of Mr. Smith. Knowing him to be an able man, and believing he must have some reasons to give for his political faith, we listened faithfully in hopes to ascertain what the convincing causes were which made him a Democrat and a teacher of Democracy. He disowned any sympathy with secession, rebellion, treason, or crime. The great point he endeavored to make was that Lincoln, Ben. Wade, and Greeley had said things that did more to encourage the South to secede than anything said and done by Democracy. He quoted from Lincoln in 1848, and from Wade in 1856, to prove they favored the right of secession. The attempt was labored and singularly ineffective. The speaker denied the right of secession in measured terms which every rebel could listen to patiently. He didn't believe Buchanan was right in the sense Republicans represented him, but there was a sense wherein he might be correct. He proved, to his own satisfaction, the Republican party favored in 1860 the doctrine of State rights—said a great many things very impressively—and occupied his hour and a half with assertions, remonstrances, and appeals—gave the negro a due amount of attention, managed to endorse the reconstruction policy of Johnson in a roundabout way, and said the national debt should be paid in a manner to reduce it as fast as possible. The democratic party thinks the South should be represented in Congress, and the white people of the South should elect them. He showed that the registered voters of the South included more blacks than whites, but he failed to say the whites failed to register. He showed up in pathetic tones sections of the Alabama constitution, and did not add that Congress would not admit Alabama to be reconstructed under that constitution. He believed the South would treat negroes well; thought the civil rights bill rather a bad thing; feared a war of races, and depicted its horrors. The democratic party favored doing nothing at all with the negro. As to taxation, everything was one and a half to three times higher than it was before the war—which strikes us as being a great stretch of truth, in fact we don't see any truth in the statement. We should heal the wounds of the country, he said, the Southern people are bone of our bone, our fellow citizens and fellow Christians.

Such was the staple of the address of the distinguished Democrat who is running for Congress. It was not strong enough of Democracy to suit Price's army and be popular on Soap creek, or in The Forks, nor was it patriotic enough in tone to deceive any patriotic man who heard. The issue of the debate is, that Logan gained friends and sustained himself well, and Mr. Smith gained nothing, but added reputation for very sophistical argument, but he could have appeared much better in a better cause.

A pleasing anecdote is related of the Emperor of Austria. During his late visit to the Paris Exposition he was surrounded by a dense crowd, among which he perceived a little girl struggling in the arms of her mother, and crying out, Je veux voir l' Empereur! He immediately made his way to the child. Kissing her on both cheeks, he took her in his arms and carried her to a stall of bonbons, where he selected the handsomest bag of dragees she could find, and then brought her back to her mother.

"Why does the operation of hanging kill a man?" inquired Dr. Whateley. A physiologist replied, circulation stopped and blood suffuses and congests the brain." "Bosh," replied his Grace. "It is because the rope is not long enough to let his feet touch the ground."

A man who had to earn his living "by the sweat of his brow," recently left Minnesota, because it was impossible to get up any sweat on his brow with the thermometer at 20 degrees below zero.

A tradesman in an Ohio city appeals to his advertisement—"Ministers of the Gospel supplied with goods at cost, if they agree to mention the fact to their congregations."

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO APRIL 10.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—In the House, Chandler offered a resolution that the President be requested to send a mission to Brazil, Bolivia and Uruguay, to reconcile those nations now at war. Referred.

The House did little business before adjourning to the Senate chamber—none of general importance—and nothing was done upon their return.

The Senate has confirmed Edward S. Dunley as U. S. Judge for the District of Nebraska.

The President has signed the new treaty with North Germany.

Impeachment Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The Court of Impeachment [illegible] Butler, on the part of the managers, called W. H. Wood, who testified that he lived in Alabama, served in the Union army, in 1866 called on the President and asked for a Government appointment. The President said he could do nothing for him, as high influence would be on the side of Congress and those he appointed must be with him.

Mr. Blodget testified that he was appointed Postmaster at Augusta, Ga., in 1864, was suspended in 1865 by the President, don't know that the Senate had been notified of his suspension.

Butler stated that he would prove that no reason for the suspension of Blodget was ever sent to the Senate.

Curtis then commenced the opening argument for the defence.

In the Senate, in the afternoon, Judge Curtis spoke until near 4 o'clock, when he begged permission to suspend his remarks as he was greatly fatigued, the Court accordingly adjourned till to-morrow. The Senate then went into executive session.

From Canada.

OTTAWA, April 9.—The prisoner Whelan, who was suspected of the murder of McGee, was examined by the police magistrate to-day. It was proved that the prisoner had been several times arrested as a Fenian for tampering with the soldiers. He had passed under different names. The door keeper of the House of Commons testified as having admitted the prisoner four different times to the gallery of the House on the night of the murder, thought he appeared uneasy and excited. The detective who arrested him testified in regard to the revolver found in his possession. One barrel had recently been discharged. The prisoner was remanded one week for further examination.

MONTREAL, April 9.—The City Council voted $1,000 to pay the expenses of McGee's funeral and also offered a reward of $5,000 for the arrest of the murderers. Whelan's wife has been arrested. A fireman of a large manufacturing establishment has suddenly disappeared. He was known to have Fenian proclivities, and is now suspected of complicity in the assassination.

From Mexico.

NEW YORK, April 10.—A Herald's special from Havana gives Mexican dates to the 3d inst. A decree has been issued subjecting all merchant steamers to certain new port regulations. At Diaro, officials have been forbidden to publish Romero's private conversation with Senator Sumner. French and Austrian residents are leaving in haste.

Juarez in his address to the members of Congress, compliments the country, and refers in flattering terms to the budget and the condition of the treasury.

A Herald's Montreal special says no doubt exists of the guilt of Whelan. A quantity of correspondence with New York Fenians has been unearthed implicating several notables. A quantity of nitro glycerine brought from New York on forged orders, has been discovered. It created immense excitement, as it is said a plot has been discovered to blow up the House of Parliament.

Miscellaneous.

OTTAWA, April 9th.—The Coroner's jury has rendered a verdict that McGee came to his death by a gunshot wound in the head, by some person unknown.

CHICAGO, April 9.—The steamer Sea Bird, from Milwaukie to this city, was burned this morning on the lake, thirty five miles north of here. It is supposed she had on board 70 passengers and a crew of 30 men. Only two persons were saved. She was owned by Capt. Goodrich and not insured.

CHARLESTON, April 9.—Commander Prentice, of the U. S. N., died last night.

GALVESTON, April 9.—A destructive fire at Huntsville, Texas, burned an entire block. Loss, $100,000.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 10.—T. H. Howard, formerly of the Miners' Foundry, and a man of reputed wealth, fell dead last night while suffering from an attack of delirium tremens.

Mrs. McNally residing at No. 522 Broadway attempted to commit suicide last evening by taking laudanum. Trouble with her neighbors was the main incentive. She is recovering.

J. J. Pennypacker sues the Bulletin for $25,000 damages for an alleged libel in an article headed "an attempt to extort black mail," published February 9, 1867.

A grand dinner is to be given to the Chinese Embassy soon. Gov. Haight will preside. The Embassy was serenaded last night and visited the Mint to-day.

Mark Twain will lecture on Tuesday evening upon the subject of his trip through the Holy Land.

There is good reason to believe that the order assigning Gen. Halleck to duty at the East will be revoked and that he will be retained in command of the Pacific Division.

The suit lately pending on appeal in the U. S. Supreme Court, wherein Abel Stearns sought to establish a title to about six hundred varas of Mission land in this city, has just been finally decided in favor of the occupants.

A CHILD WITH THREE ARMS, AND THE FREE USE OF ALL.—A medical friend reports having seen, within the past week, while traveling through the southern portions of Lincoln County, a most wonderful human monstrosity.

It is a well-developed white child of some ten years of age, walking, talking, eating, &c., in the most approved juvenile manner, with a third arm growing from its back, immediately between its shoulders. This arm, as it is called, is no flabby, useless excrescence, as is common in such freaks of nature, but a healthy, well-defined limb, with separate and appropriate bones, joints, muscles, &c., and applied by its little owner to a number of strange uses.

In the center of a plate of bone permanently uniting the shoulder blades is the socket or first joint, permitting the limb to be used freely in all directions, by means of several powerful and strangely complicated muscles. From the socket extends a large triangular bone or three small bones combined—perfectly straight, and about eight inches in length, terminating in a short, flexible wrist, upon which closely fits the hand. This hand is somewhat in the shape and about the size of an ordinary funnel, with four finger-like projections at equal distances about the rim. The fingers have claw-like nails, joints, &c., and possesses the power of opening and closing as in the ordinary hand, their grip, however, being much more powerful. The palm, which seems already hardened by use, recedes into the wrist, leaving a small opening, from which constantly oozes a dark mucus discharge entirely devoid of smell.

At a word from its mother the child lifted and carried about with its strange member a small chair and other unwieldy articles, suspended itself from the doctor's walking stick, in fact went through evolutions which would put to blush a well trained monkey.

The doctor candidly declares that he deems the case not deformity, that the limb, being perfect and harmonizing with the entire body, is nothing more nor less than a designed addition to it by its great Author, and this little boy's birth has created a blank in natural history. That he is not of the genus homo is certain, but whether his strange species will be perpetuated or not is a question for the learned to discuss and time to determine. Very few are aware of the existence of this wonderful being even in the neighborhood where his parents are said to reside.—Nashville Times

THE CIRCUMLOCUTION OFFICE.—It is often the matter of remark that the Street Commissioner does not [illegible] bad places in the streets or cross-walks [illegible], and sometimes persons unjustly attach blame to him. The fact is the City Charter and the City Council constitute a sort of Circumlocution Office on a small scale, through which street repairs and street improvements—two very different things—have to be [illegible] in the regular way. For instance There is a cross-walk at the junction of Washington and First [illegible], which has a plank broken and is therefore a dangerous place. The Street Commissioner claims that he has no authority to put down a new one without action by the Council, and he is probably correct. If the Council take hold of the matter the first thing to be done is to determine by ordinance or resolution whether there [illegible] shall be made at the expense of the general fund or of adjacent property holders. If they decide that it shall be paid for out of the general fund then an [illegible] and an appropriation is all that the Council has to do. Then the Street Commissioner may go ahead and put down a new plank. If it be resolved that the repair shall be paid for by the owners of the adjacent property then the "repair" becomes an "improvement" and the matter is fairly plunged into the mysteries of the Circumlocution Office. The Circumlocution Office resolves to do it, then it gives notice of its intention to do it by publication in some newspaper. The Circumlocution Office then waits ten days to see if anybody remonstrates against doing it; at the end of ten days the Circumlocution Office figures up and determines whether two thirds or less of the adjacent property holders have remonstrated; if two thirds of them have remonstrated, the Circumlocution Office declares that the "improvement" cannot be proceeded with for want of "endorsement" in the necessary bureau. In case there be no two-thirds remonstrance, the Circumlocution Office considers the thing endorsed regularly, and then refers the matter to another bureau to ascertain the cost and to [illegible] the proportionate amount for which each lot adjacent may be liable. The bureau surveys the premises and carefully estimates the cost of buying a three-inch plank six spikes, transportation of the same to the said crossing, and the work of laying the plank and driving the spikes. Having ascertained these facts the bureau reports them formally to the other [illegible] of the Circumlocution Office. The Circumlocution Office then proceeds to consider whether in view of the facts, it will proceed with the improvement. If it resolve to go ahead, the Committee on Streets is instructed to bring in an ordinance. The Circumlocution Office may pass the ordinance if they choose, at any time within six months. If they pass it the "improvement" is [illegible] ed as authorized and then—well then the Circumlocution Office gives notice that it will receive bids and let the contract to the lowest bidder, provided [illegible] of the property owners do not offer to lay down the plank and drive the spikes as cheap as the lowest bidder. This is not quite the end of the chapter but [illegible] thing the Circumlocution office succeeds in [illegible] of a few months, in reaching [illegible] and the plank is sometimes laid down before the unrelenting hand of Time marks it with decay.

NEW PRECINCTS AND CHANGE OF BOUNDARIES.—The [illegible] Commissioners, yesterday formed two new precincts, Washington precinct in this city, and Grant [illegible] on the east side of the river. The boundaries of [illegible] precincts are described in the following order of the court:

Now, on this day it is ordered that the precincts known as [illegible] Central Portland be and are so changed [illegible] as and form another precinct designated as Washington Precinct, bounded and described as follows, to-wit: Commencing at the south-east corner of [illegible]'s land claim, at low water mark on the Willamette river, thence westerly with the south line of [illegible] land claim to the intersection of the center of [illegible] th street, in the city of Portland, thence [illegible] ly with Thirteenth street to the intersection of the base line, thence east with the base line to the center of [illegible], thence northerly with the center of Tenth [illegible] to the intersection of the center of Morrison street; [illegible] ly with the center of Morrison street to the Willamette river, thence down said river to the place of beginning.

And it is further ordered that the boundary of Central [illegible] be as follows, to-wit: Commencing at the foot [illegible] street, at low water mark in the Willamette [illegible] westerly with said street to the center of [illegible] thence southerly along said street to the line of Peter Smith's road, thence south with the [illegible] road to the county line, thence north with [illegible] to the intersection of the base line, thence [illegible] with the base line to the intersection at the center of Tenth street; thence north [illegible] ly to the center of Morrison [illegible]; thence easterly to the Willamette river [illegible] up said river to the place of beginning.

And be it further ordered that East Portland Precinct be [illegible] and established that the following [illegible] the boundaries of Grant Precinct, to-wit: [illegible] at the foot of M street at the Willamette [illegible] with the center of "M" street to the [illegible] from the base line to the [illegible] Asylum [illegible] northerly with said road to the base line; thence [illegible] the base line to the present eastern boundary [illegible] Portland Precinct; thence south to the county [illegible] west to the Willamette river; thence down [illegible] river to the place of beginning. All territory not [illegible] in the foregoing limits remains as East Portland.

MRS. WOOD'S CONCERT.—The audience at Oro Fino [illegible] evening, to hear Mrs. Wood sing, was only fair in numbers—by far fewer than so accomplished a vocalist deserves to have on any [illegible]. Mrs Wood has a voice of rare sweetness and compass, and we exaggerate nothing when we say that no better cultivated voice has been heard in this city. She controls it wonderfully [illegible] or breaking from one extreme of the scale [illegible] with great ease and steadiness of tone. The [illegible] last evening were mostly those with which the public is acquainted and an opportunity was given for her hearers to intelligently compare [illegible] with those of other singers. The [illegible] of pleasure elicited were sufficient [illegible] in the judgment of the audience among the [illegible] ever heard in Portland. Her performance of "The Swallows Homeward Fly"—a difficult piece—was perfect and in fine taste, as, indeed [illegible] all the others. "The Swiss Girl" [illegible] air, was another difficult piece, but [illegible] with which she managed it, elicited [illegible] manifestations of approbation. Her elocution [illegible] perfect pleasing, natural, and in comic pieces, naive. We are [illegible] that she will [illegible] at her concert this [illegible] Oro Fino Hall, when she will be assisted by [illegible] and will probably introduce [illegible] pieces not presented last evening. She deserves, [illegible] hope to see, a full house.

[illegible] The following items are from the [illegible] Register, received last evening. We learn [illegible] was adopted at the last regular meeting [illegible] No. 2, I. O. O. F., of this place, to [illegible] of the other two lodges and the [illegible] organize [illegible] with a view to celebrating [illegible] of May. Rev. D. [illegible] Spaulding will deliver [illegible] sermon at the M. E. Church, [illegible] next Sabbath, April 19th. The District [illegible] District, holding [illegible] April [illegible] Wythe will preside. Our market was never [illegible] as the present time, [illegible] give way to the more delicate [illegible] the former is offered at unprecedent [illegible] are found. This [illegible] this place on Monday evening in [illegible] which time the whole population [illegible] rigging all manner of contrivances [illegible] then which nothing is easier. It is [illegible] will last a week yet, and many [illegible] to cure enough for their summer's supply [illegible] the country have [illegible] to arrive to [illegible] in our good fortune.

[illegible] ELECTION.—The County Commissioners, yesterday, [illegible] the following judges of election:

[illegible] R. P. [illegible], Jas. M. [illegible], D. F. Buckstin,
[illegible] G. V[illegible] E. Albright, A. Gates.

[illegible] CORRECTION.—A communication published [illegible] of Thursday evening undertakes to correct [illegible] in the statement that Dr. Newell is [illegible] Washington at the solicitation of the Nez Perce [illegible], and says that he is going simply on his own [illegible]. Now notwithstanding this "slight [illegible]" we know whereof we affirm when we say [illegible] is going to Washington at the request of [illegible] chiefs and people, and that so anxious [illegible] him to go that they furnished him the money for his traveling expenses. It is extremely doubtful [illegible] chiefs could have been prevailed upon to go [illegible] ted to go, also.

[illegible] THEATRICALS.—Mrs. Amy Stone the star [illegible] by her husband, an actor of some [illegible] and several others are now in this city, [illegible] the arrival of the Active on which they propose [illegible] for Victoria. There they expect to join [illegible] troupe and thus constitute a full and [illegible] company, and after getting fully organized to [illegible] Portland and give a series of performances of [illegible]. It is now intended by them to [illegible] about the middle of May.

PRODUCE.—The arrivals yesterday were as follows: Per steamer Senator, 582 qr sks flour, 11 hlf bbls [illegible], 117 gunnies bacon, 106 sks feed, 74 boxes [illegible], 4 bbls cider, 4 boxes eggs, 32 sks oats, 280 bags [illegible], 1 hlf bbls lard, and 6 cases unspecified. [illegible] EXTRAORDINARY.—We are informed that [illegible], the trance lecturer, will speak at Oro Fino Hall, on Sunday evening at half past seven o'clock [illegible] "Is the Bible Inspired?" It is claimed that [illegible] the arguments on both sides at the dictation of two spirits who, it seems, are of different [illegible] as to the origin of the Bible.

THE TAYLOR STREET CHURCH.—We are informed that the Lutheran Society of this city of which Rev. A. My[illegible] is pastor has rented the church building heretofore [illegible] by the M. E. congregation and that hereafter [illegible] services will be regularly held in the forenoon.

[illegible] FOR VICTORIA.—The schooner Crosby will [illegible] for Victoria with the following freight: 125 [illegible], 1,120 bags bran, 600 bags middlings, 64 boxes [illegible], 10 bbls. molasses, 20 boxes apples.

CONCERT TO-NIGHT.—Mrs Wood had not designed to sing in this city [illegible] evening, but after the close of the concert last evening by the urgent request of many of the [illegible] she [illegible] [illegible] fever [illegible].

INSTALLATION [illegible].—We learn [illegible] of the M. E. Church [illegible] leave [illegible] evening [illegible] of the society.

PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES.
Prevents Fever and Ague and Bilious Remittent Fevers;
Fortifies the System against Miasma and the evil effects of unwholesome water invigorates the organs of digestion and the bowels,

REMEDIAL PROPERTIES.
Cures Dyspepsia Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous Headache General Debility Nervousness, Depression of Spirits Constipation Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Sea Sickness
Cramps and Spasms and all complaints of either sex arising from Bodily Weakness, whether inherent in the system or PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES.

NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME, GENIAL and restorative in its nature enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind; no deadly botanical element no fiery excitant but is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated, and the appetite restored by this Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient as well as upon the liver it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is conclusive, and from both sexes.

As a Genuine Tonic HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produces effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last but not least, it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acrid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.
The undersigned who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions; the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior a relatively higher price excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

COMMENTS OF THE PRESS ON T[illegible] FRIDAY'S ELECTION

[From the N. Y. Herald.]

After the State elections of 1867 culminating in New York with her fifty thousand Democratic majority there was reason to expect that the popular reaction against the party in power thus made manifest would appear in the elections of 1868. The opening election in New Hampshire it was generally believed would settle the question, and until within a few weeks of the time there was a fair prospect of a decisive Democratic victory. What changed it? General Grant on the one side and Mr Pendleton on the other for the next Presidency—the one representing the Union party principles and issues of the war and the other the obnoxious and seven times rejected principles and peace fallacies of the Chicago Convention of 1864. * * * This result in New Hampshire therefore leads us to these conclusions. That while the copperheads have crippled the Democracy the name of Gen Grant as the Presidential candidate of the Republicans has been a tower of strength to their State ticket; that the impeachment of Andrew Johnson has not hurt them and has perplexed the opposition, and that the best thing that Mr Johnson can now do to save himself is to resign his office and let the Radicals have full swing in the Executive as in the Legislative Department in order that the country may be fully enlightened as to their designs and purposes.

[From the New York Commercial Advertiser—Thurlow Weed.]

The election, coming so early in the season is regarded as a sign of the future and whatever party carries the State, is warranted in its claim to all the capital legitimately made by it. * * that in spite of all the blunders and shortcomings of its leaders the people of New Hampshire have yet faith in Republicanism, and they give the first earnest of the political promise that Grant shall be the next President.

[From the New York Times.]

Both Democrats and Republicans in New Hampshire have been telling the voters for a month past that this election should be decisive of the greater political contest the country will have before the close of the year. It would be indicative of the course of popular feeling, of the public judgment upon Congress and its conduct, and upon the Republican party. Of course we hear [illegible] like this before every election [illegible]; and as facts often prove it nonsense, we are not inclined to pay too much heed to it. But still there is no doubt that the present New Hampshire election, being conducted on national issues, in a closely contested State, and after the most vigorous campaign, may be taken as an indication of the highest significance, in reference to the drift of public sentiment and its bearing upon the next Presidential election and the other [illegible] of the year.

[From the New York Tribune.]

By common consent, yesterday's election in New Hampshire was expected, from the St John to the Pacific, to strike the keynote of the Presidential contest of 1868. As the first State to vote [illegible] year—as a State very equally divided and ever sharply contested—as a State peopled by eminently intelligent and independent [illegible] its decision was awaited with an anxiety utterly disproportioned to her material weight in the councils of the Union.

The people of New Hampshire are eminently and truly conservative. Seven eighths of them were born on her soil, educated in her schools, and a large majority of them own their own homes and till their own labor. They mean to uphold and preserve the free institutions received from their fathers. They reverence order law morality [illegible]. No reckless and perilous innovation can ever secure their support. They are the [illegible] lives of justice and liberty, equal right and national integrity. If the impeachment of President Johnson were such a [illegible] as his backers pronounce it, [illegible] be [illegible] more sternly, more effectively, than in New Hampshire.

The State was never more thoroughly canvassed than during the last month. Its area is not large, and it is well chequered with railroads. Two newspapers to each family is probably below the average; and the tidings that able and eminent men of either party were to speak at this or that point in the season when rural labor was lightest, drew them together from night to night by thousands. We presume there are few voters in the State who have not attended three mass meetings. If anybody could [illegible] them to renounce the principle, Doolittle might do it; while Connecticut contributed two or three renegade office holders to flaunt in the face of the steadfast the [illegible] the emoluments they enjoyed as the wages of their shame. Each party has done its "level best"—made its mightiest exertions, polled its last vote. Had a thousand more meetings been held, and addressed by the ablest speakers of both parties, we presume the majority would not have been varied a hundred votes.

[From the Utica Herald.]

Appeal has been made by the Copperhead press from Congress to the people, with the assumption that New Hampshire would utter the popular voice, relative to impeachment and reconstruction. They [illegible] farther and intimated that the election [illegible] State [illegible] decide the Presidential [illegible] From the [illegible] tops of the White Mountains [illegible] to be taken [illegible] people [illegible] on the basis of [illegible] the [illegible] usurper [illegible] The reaction [illegible] "Flaunt" than words, it proclaims "Remove Andrew Johnson and [illegible] the public. Then complete reconstruction and elect Grant President."

[From the Albany Journal.]

It will [illegible] take the spirit out of the errant [illegible] Democracy, to contemplate the returns of [illegible]. They had made every preparation for festivity and rejoicing for bringing out their "big [illegible]," and claiming that the "ground swell" which [illegible] in California, and continued in Ohio, had been swept upward to New Hampshire, and indicated the probabilities of an overwhelming revolution in favor of the "outs." The [illegible] It has sadly cheated their calculations. In California, the Republicans were beaten through the unpopularity of their candidate for Governor [illegible] with undue participation in [illegible] In Ohio, disturbing local [illegible] of certain measures [illegible] had its [illegible] In [illegible] for the first [illegible] have [illegible] the broad [illegible] principle [illegible] with the lines fairly [illegible] divided. The end has been a thorough defeat of the Democrats.

[From the [illegible]]

[illegible] District election in this State the first gun of the Presidential year but this news [illegible] New Hampshire is a whole broadside of [illegible] into the hull of Democracy. * * * The State was canvassed with unprecedented rigor by both parties and the fullest vote ever cast was polled by both parties. Under these circumstances this marked [illegible] gain is an evidence of the growing strength of Republican principles in the convictions of the people, and that the Republican party, making its fight on these principles and untrammelled by side issues, is secure of popular support. * * * The tide which went out last fall, leaving us aground on the beach, is [illegible]. It has reached New Hampshire and is coming westward with a roar. On its bosom the great [illegible], whom it will sweep into the Presidential chair with a power that knows no restraining hand.

A gentleman who wanted to make a speech to a Sunday school thought he would adopt the colloquial style, and this is what happened. 'Now boys. What does a man want when he goes a fishing?' A shrill voice in the crowd went direct to the point with 'Wants a bite.'

WEEKLY REVIEW

PORTLAND, April 10 1868

Gold at New York on the 8th was 138¾. On the same day Legal Tenders were 71@72½ at San Francisco.

The New York and Liverpool markets for flour and [illegible] are [illegible]. Agents same as quoted last week. The best Oregon [illegible] flour are quoted in the San Francisco market at $7 50 market generally dull.

The bark [illegible] sailed for this city on the [illegible] inst. The steamer Geo H Wright will sail to day. There is an impression here that she is to run in the Portland and Victoria trade, though we know of no positive intimation to that effect. The steamship [illegible] will commence to-day to receive freight for Portland and will sail on Tuesday next. She will come in place of the Ajax [illegible] of steamers [illegible] appears here, as she cannot carry more than half as much freight as can the Ajax. The John L. Stephens sailed this morning for San Francisco with a cargo of 1 300 tons produce, in round numbers. The Crosby will sail for this city to-morrow morning with about 100 tons [illegible] mostly made up by one firm.

Our local produce market is extremely dull owing to the immense surplus in our warehouses and the want of consumption. The arrivals of flour from the Willamette valley since the 1st of April aggregate 4 3 5 [illegible] sks, of wheat, [illegible] bags and [illegible] equivalent to 1 1 0 300 pounds. The shipments [illegible] same date were 20 5[illegible] qr sks flour. Messrs Fay [illegible] & Co [illegible] the John L. Stephens 00 gunnies [illegible] Boston [illegible] We have [illegible] the high favor in which this trade [illegible] the Boston market.

The jobbing merchandise market is moderately active. The valley trade is fair, orders being steady [illegible] though for small stocks. The figures [illegible] week [illegible] some lines of hardware [illegible] ever except one the quotations being [illegible] the [illegible] deal [illegible] a [illegible] further reduction on prices which are just now [illegible] settled.

The reports concerning the [illegible] up the Columbia are universally favorable. The Mountaineer [illegible] say "The trade of the week has been large [illegible] excess over the former. Our wholesale dealers have been busily filling orders for the interior trade [illegible] shipments to Montana and Idaho have been large." The Walla Walla Statesman of the 3d says: "[illegible] as we hear the cheering report that the [illegible] in a flattering manner. Our town has cast off its winter's gloom and now [illegible] a business-like [illegible] appearance."

A writer from Wallula says: "The town is full of [illegible] delivering flour and grain. Within one day [illegible] trains, numbering in the aggregate, 441 packs had left with freights for various points in Idaho and Montana. A still greater number of packs were preparing for an early start. The rates of freight are as follows from Umatilla: To Owyhee 10 cts per lb, Idaho City [illegible] cts, Boise City 7 cts, Uniontown 3½, LaGrande 5 cts payable in coin or gold bars."

TURBINE WATER WHEEL!

OF WHICH THE ABOVE IS AN ILLUSTRATION has FOUR SETS OF BUCKETS, AND USES THREE FOURTHS OF THE WATER [illegible].

The old high priced, unequalled and unrivalled wheel has been proven out by a fair working trial made by Mr H Kelly, at his saw mill, and the public can see what he says as to the capacity of the two wheels in the following testimonial over his own signature.

MR. H. W. SHIPLEY—Sir: In reply to your inquiry as to how I like your Pacific Turbine Wheel, I have to say that I have used one over-shot and three [illegible] wheels 10 ft and 15½ ft diameter. When I first tested your 15 inch wheel [illegible] Leffel wheel [illegible] it worked the machinery [illegible] using 52 ft of water per minute [illegible] At your request I subsequently [illegible] be [illegible] gave no better power than yours while it used 52 cubic feet more water per minute. [illegible] placed your wheel and I am still using it with the most satisfactory results. [illegible] tests [illegible] 9 inch knife [illegible] an inch depth [illegible] the least slacking the speed. After the [illegible] tests of the wheels I am satisfied that your wheel with gates one-eighth [illegible] more than [illegible] Leffel with gates one-third open. At half gate your wheel [illegible] the Leffel at half gate. At full gate the power of yours exceeds that of the Leffel from ten to twelve per cent. At quarter gate, the Leffel holds no comparison with yours at quarter gate.

N B Mr Shipley was not present at either of the trials of his wheel, he being sick at the first, and absent from the State at the second trial.

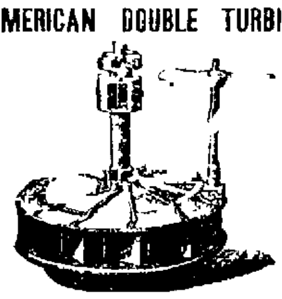
WATER WHEEL



THESE WHEELS UNEQUALLED AND UNRIVALLED in the United States or the world have been fully tested and this country many being in use at this date driving all kinds of machinery, Saw Mills, Flour Mills Quartz Mills Woolen Factories &c &c
The following is from the Springfield Republic.

Trial of Water Wheels.

Messrs Jonathan Chill and John A M Creight who are about establishing mills and factories at Harper's Ferry Va., wished to procure water wheels, and desiring to make a trial of Springfield Wheels procured a trial between the Leffel Double Turbine and the Welch and Burns Wheel. The following report of the Committee shows the result of the trial.

SPRINGFIELD, O, Oct 11 1867
This is to certify that on the 9th and 10th days of October 1867 I in company with Mr Staley, Civil Engineer, of Mechanicsburg, carefully measured the amount of water used in the tests between the Leffel Turbine and the 10 inch Welch & Burns Water wheels made by Bechtle, Blakeney & Baker, made at Weimer's mill near West Milton, Miami Co, O. The contract requiring the tests to be made with ⅓ gates and ⅔ gates with the same amount of water for each wheel. The amount of grinding was superintended by Mr Charles Morgan who will report the results.

The amount of water used in the tests as measured by myself and Mr Staley is as follows:

| | C ft per min |
|---|---|
| At ⅓ gate the Leffel Wheel used | 88 224 |
| " Welch & Burns used | 86 224 |
| At ⅔ gate the Leffel Wheel used | 117 [illegible] |
| Welch & Burns used | 11[illegible] |

The grinding was continued for one hour each test.
WILLIAM BROWN
Civil Engineer
S S STALEY

Having been chosen by both parties to determine the amount of grain ground by each of the above mentioned wheels the result was as follows:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| The Leffel Wheel at ⅓ gate ground | 266 | lbs |
| The Welch & Burns at ⅓ gate ground | 66½ | lbs |
| The Leffel Wheel at ⅔ gate ground | 411½ | lbs |
| The Welch & Burns at ⅔ gate ground | 197 | lbs |

Medical.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES
Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing), and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons both male and female are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences or from virus absorbed into the system. Look at their pallid, bloated and disfigured faces and their broken down constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness of wedlock or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation they languish until death closes the scene. Let patients [illegible] guardians friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies, see that they are cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days. Imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, [illegible] about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and entirely mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove [illegible] that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are [illegible] under any of these fearful maladies should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible and will give to the patient a written instrument binding him [illegible] to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon, stating case, [illegible] length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and curiosity to any part of the country with full and plain directions for use. for Ten Dollars, sent in a [illegible] letter or through Wells Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders, who, with bogus sworn-to certificates dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly news, [illegible] of San Francisco and other places are tradesmen and [illegible] too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tins [illegible] shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office [illegible] etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory, and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid them is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets; for as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not [illegible] by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, [illegible] letters, etc. Dr Gibbon will satisfy [illegible] who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.
